SPRINGFIELD CITY COUNCILOR TO RESIGN

Ward 6 Councilor Bob Brew to resign on July 7

Springfield City Councilor Bob Brew will formally resign his position as Ward 6 City Councilor at the July 7 Springfield City Council meeting. Brew is leaving due to a relocation that will move him out of Ward 6.

Brew said, "It has been an honor and a privilege to serve the citizens of Springfield over the past eighteen months. Springfield will always be my hometown, and I'm proud to say so. The City Council and the City staff have much to be proud of, and much to look forward to."

Mayor Lundberg said "Bob brought a wealth of experience and a professional perspective to the council – we will miss his input and appreciate his service."

Councilor Brew was elected in the May 15, 2012 Primary Election and took his oath of office on January 7, 2013. His term expires December 31, 2016. Mayor Lundberg and the remaining Councilors will discuss options for the vacancy process during a work session discussion on June 23.
