WORKSHOPS FOR WRITERS AT THE LIBRARY
Creative Writing and National Novel Writing Month Preparation

Adults and high school-age teens are invited to attend writing workshops in the library during the month of October.

On Saturday, October 13, 2012 from 1:30-4:30pm, will be a free class, “Plot, Setting, and Character: A Creative Writing Workshop.” Leading the class will be Nicole Leseney from the Lane County chapter of NaNoWriMo (National Novel Writing Month). The class size limit is 20 and will be held in the Library Conference Room inside the library. Please sign-up at the reference desk or by calling 541-726-3766.

On Saturday, October 20, 2012 from 1-2pm, will be a free class, “What Is NaNoWriMo?.” The introduction to November’s National Novel Writing will be held in the Library Conference Room.

Both workshops are in anticipation of NaNoWriMo—National Novel Writing Month—in November. For NaNoWriMo, participants pledge to write 50,000 words in a month, starting from scratch and finishing by November 30. For more information, visit www.nanowrimo.org.
