A GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK TOUR

Park Ranger Doug Crispin will present a new and lively talk

On Tuesday, March 27, 2012 at 6:30pm, come hear another wonderful talk about our national parks with popular presenter and park ranger, Doug Crispin.

Grand Teton National Park —throw in mountain lakes, a meandering river, deep forests, a splash of fall tree colors and winter snows. Add wildlife like bison, elk, as well as predators such as grizzly bears and grey wolves, and you have a winning combination of natural resources unparalleled in the American West. How would you like to spend a summer working in such a special area? Eugene resident Doug Crispin spent last summer as a park ranger doing just this last summer. He returns to our library to present another exclusive and fascinating National Park program. Join Ranger Doug for a special insider's look at Grand Teton National Park.
