PIANO PALOOZA AT THE WILDISH THEATER

Sign up for Springfield's first citywide piano recital

The Springfield Arts Commission presents Piano Palooza, Springfield's first citywide piano recital. All ages and skill levels are encouraged to sign up to perform on the grand piano on stage at the Wildish Theater on Tuesday, June 12, 2012 at 7pm.

This is not a competition, just a chance to showcase the talent that plays on pianos in living rooms across the city!

Entry forms are available at the Springfield Public Library and online at www.springfieldartscommission.org. Entries must be returned to the library by June 1, 2012.

There is no admission charge to perform or attend. The only requirement is that pianists must live or work in Springfield.

The purpose of the Springfield Arts Commission is to promote cultural richness and diversity and assist in the preservation of the cultural heritage of the community as expressed through artistic endeavors. A chief objective is to provide places and spaces for artistic creations, exhibits, performances and events.
