CRIMINAL ANTHROPOLOGIST TO SPEAK AT SPRINGFIELD LIBRARY

A presentation of the Springfield Library Foundation

On Saturday, July 20, 2013 at 3pm, Dr. Nici Vance from the Oregon State Crime Lab will present on her adventures in criminal anthropology.

Dr. Vance has been a forensic scientist, crime scene analyst, and anthropologist for 15 years. She currently analyzes biological evidence from homicides, attempted homicides, assaults and high profile cases. She has responded to over 150 crime scenes in her career and examined bodies and skeletal remains from every county in the state of Oregon.

Because of the graphic nature of Dr. Vance's work, the program is suggested for those of high school age and up.

This lecture is sponsored by the Springfield Library Foundation.
