Over 20 local farmers, chefs and artisans invite you to discover what's happening at your local Farmers' Market every Friday from 3 to 7 pm, especially this coming Friday!

For the past three years, Springfield Farmers' Market has been located inside the Market Hall at Sprout! Regional Food Hub, so to kick-off its' move back outdoors, the Market is celebrating with a special, fun-filled, event for the entire family. This festive event will feature live music, local food, prizes, kid's activities, face painting and more!

Lisa Hartwick, Business Director for Sprout! Regional Food Hub (NEDCO) and who oversees the management of the Market states: "We are extremely excited that the Market has made the decision to move back outside to the Fountain Plaza at City Hall, increasing visibility & access to local food for the community. In addition, the move will allow us to expand the Market in the years to come – we have a lot more space now, thanks to the City."
