METAMORPHOSIS DRAWING CLASS FOR TEENS

Springfield Public Library offers the free class; space is limited.

On Saturday, July 26 from 12-3 pm., instructor Gabe Shaughnessy will lead a three-hour drawing workshop for teens age 13-18 in the Library Meeting Room.

Gabe Shaughnessy is a professional illustrator and artist from Portland, OR. The metamorphosis drawing class covers the basics of drawing, including gesture, contour and light, using several drawing games that 'change' as you play them. Participants can experiment with different drawing mediums and receive one-on-one tips and advice during the games. The drawing games are great for all skill levels and encourage everybody to use drawing as a tool for their imagination. Gabe's work can be seen at gabesimagination.com.

Materials are provided. Pre-registration is required; please call 726-3766 to reserve a place.
