Background:

The Planning Commission is a quasi-judicial decision-making body appointed by the City Council that has authority over zone changes, variances, appeals and discretionary use requests. The Commission also makes recommendations to the City Council about the City's future growth and development. The commission works with city staff in drafting amendments to the Metropolitan Area General Plan, local land-use refinement plans and development regulations.

The Planning Commission also serves as the City's Committee for Citizen Involvement and reviews and approves the formation of Planning Advisory Committees and Citizen Involvement Programs.

The Planning Commission meets twice per month. At a minimum, this means about six hours of meetings monthly with 3-6 hours of preparation time for each meeting. Each commissioner is also expected to attend Council meetings on a rotating basis, and to participate on special committees as needed. The total monthly commitment may exceed 12 hours.

The City provides training for new Planning Commissioners to help them learn their role and responsibilities as appointed officials. Commissioners may attend training sessions on meeting protocol, conflict of interest, legal issues and decision-making. The Planning Division serves as the primary staff to the Commission by providing reports, meeting packets, training opportunities, meeting minutes and information requested by the Commission.

Regular meetings are held in the evening on the first and third Tuesday of each month. Commissioners are required to attend these meetings and are expected to have reviewed the agenda material in preparation for performing their duties.
